OBASI N'DALA

Variant Human, Wizard (Order of Scribes) 5th, Chaotic Good

Armor Class 16 (Mage Armor + Cloak of Protection)

Hit Points 30 (8 + 4d6 + 4d6)

Speed 9 m (30 ft)

STR	DEX	CON	INT	WIS	CHA
11 (+0)	14 (+2)	14 (+2)	20 (+5)	12 (+1)	12 (+1)

Saving Throws Int +9, Wis +5, Dex +3, Con +3, Cha +2, Str +1 (incl. +1 Cloak)

Skills Arcana +8, History +8, Investigation +8, Religion +8, Nature +5

Senses Passive Perception 11

Languages Common + one extra language

Challenge 5 (1,800 XP) Proficiency Bonus +3

TRAITS

Variant Human (race). Ability Score Increase. Two different ability scores of your choice gain +1. Skills. Proficiency in one skill of your choice.

Feat. One feat of your choice (Resilient CON). Size. Medium; speed 9 m.

Languages. Common and one extra language of your choice.

Resilient (CON). +1 Con; proficiency in Constitution saving throws.

Arcane Recovery. Once per day, when you finish a short rest, you regain expended spell slots totaling no more than half your wizard level (rounded up), and none of the slots can be 6th level or higher.

Ritual Casting. You can cast a wizard spell with the ritual tag as a ritual if the spell is in your spellbook, without having it prepared.

Awakened Spellbook. You use the book as a spellcasting focus; you can change the damage type of a spell to one from another spell of the same level in the book; casting a ritual uses the normal casting time instead of adding 10 minutes (once per day).

Magical Quill. As a bonus action, you create a pen that needs no ink; copying a spell takes 2 minutes per level; you erase what you wrote by waving the feather (within 1.5 m).

Spellbook. Copying a spell into the book costs 2 hours and 50 gp per level; copying from a scroll requires an Intelligence (Arcana) check with a DC of 10 + the spell's level (the scroll is destroyed either way). Preparing the day's spells takes at least 1 minute per level and is completed after a long rest; you can prepare a number of spells equal to your Intelligence modifier + your wizard level (5 + 5 = 10).

Researcher (Acolyte). When you attempt to learn or recall a piece of lore, if you do not know it, you often know where and from whom to obtain it: a library, a scriptorium, a university, a sage, or another learned person. With the Dungeon Master's permission, you can know details about the religions, ceremonies, and deities you come into contact with.

ACTIONS

Dagger +1 (Mithril). Melee. +6 to hit, reach 1.5 m, one target. Hit: 4 (1d4+3) piercing damage.

Fire Bolt (cantrip). Ranged spell attack. +8 to hit, range 36 m, one target. Hit: 2d10 fire damage.

Shocking Grasp (cantrip). Melee spell attack. +8 to hit; advantage against targets wearing metal armor. Hit: 2d8 lightning damage and the target can't take reactions until the start of your next turn.

Chill Touch (cantrip). Ranged spell attack. +8 to hit, range 36 m, one target. Hit: 1d8 necrotic damage and, until the end of the target's next turn, the first attack roll it makes that deals damage has disadvantage.

Magic Missile (1st-level, 3). Spell. You create three darts (one more for each slot level above 1st), each dealing 1d4+1 force damage.

Chromatic Orb (1st-level). Ranged spell attack. +8 to hit, range 27 m. Hit: 3d8 (acid, cold, lightning, fire, thunder, or poison), +1d8 for each slot level above 1st.

SPELLS (DC 16, ATTACK BONUS +8)

Cantrips (4). Light, Shocking Grasp, Fire Bolt, Chill Touch.

1st Level (4 slots, 4 prepared). Chromatic Orb, Mage Armor, Magic Missile, Shield.

Rituals in the book (not prepared): Alarm, Identify, Detect Magic, Find Familiar.

2nd Level (3 slots, 4 prepared). Phantasmal Force, Invisibility, Dragon's Breath, Tasha's Mind Whip.

3rd Level (2 slots, 2 prepared). Haste, Fireball (8d6, DEX save DC 16, 6 m sphere).

MAGIC ITEMS

MAGIC INVENTORY

Ring of Spell Storing	Rare
Pearl of Power	Uncommon
Cloak of Protection	Uncommon
Portable Hole	Rare

RING OF SPELL STORING

(Rare, attunement) This ring stores spells cast into it, holding them until the attuned wearer uses them. The ring can store up to 5 levels worth of spells at a time. When found, it contains 1d6–1 levels of stored spells chosen by the DM. Any creature can cast a spell of 1st–5th level into the ring by touching the ring as the spell is cast. The spell has no effect, other than to be stored in the ring. If the ring can't hold the spell, the spell is expended without effect. The level of the slot used to cast the spell determines how much space it uses. While wearing this ring, you can cast any spell stored in it. The spell uses the slot level, spell save DC, spell attack bonus, and spellcasting ability of the original caster, but is otherwise treated as if you cast the spell. The spell cast from the ring is no longer stored in it, freeing up space.

PEARL OF POWER

(Uncommon, attunement) While this pearl is on your person, you can use an action to speak its command word and regain one expended spell slot. If the expended slot is of 4th level or higher, the new slot is 3rd level. Once you have used the pearl, it can't be used again until the next dawn.

CLOAK OF PROTECTION

(Uncommon, attunement) You gain a +1 bonus to AC and to saving throws while you wear this cloak.

PORTABLE HOLE

(Rare) This fine black cloth, soft as silk, is folded up to the dimensions of a handkerchief. It unfolds into a circular sheet 1.8 meters in diameter. You can use an action to unfold it and place it over or against a solid surface, whereupon the portable hole creates an extradimensional hole 3 meters deep. The cylindrical space within the hole exists on a different plane, so it has no effect on the space it's in and can't open passages. Any creature or object within its reach can fit inside. As long as the hole remains open, you can use it as a hideout. You can use an action to close it by folding the cloth closed, and any creatures or objects within remain inside. If closed with a creature inside, it can use an action to make a Strength check DC 10 to force its way out and emerge within 1.5 meters of the cloth or its carrier. A breathing creature inside a closed portable hole can survive up to 10 minutes, then begins to suffocate. Placing the portable hole inside an extradimensional space (such as that of a bag of holding) instantly destroys both items and opens a gate to the Astral Plane.

THE CHARACTER

is a wizard of the Order of Scribes, originally raised as an Acolyte; his mind is a blade as sharp as his pen.

BIOGRAPHY

Born in the slums, Obasi always knew that magic is not a mystical gift but an exact science, a weapon that demands discipline and ruthlessness. In secret he is a master of the cult of Mystra, the Mother of All Magic: for him the Weave is not merely a tool but the sacred fabric of the universe. His path began when he crossed the trail of the Master Scribe, an old and cynical mage who worked in the shadows, secretly affiliated with the Black Network (Zhentarim). It was he who taught Obasi that the Weave is a perfect tapestry, and that anyone who reaches into it without study — like those abominations, the sorcerers, who vomit magic by pure genetic chance — is a dangerous anomaly to be studied, caged, and neutralized. Only wizards deserve power.

Under the Master's guidance, Obasi became a member of the Order of Scribes and learned to channel his magical essence into a seemingly harmless object. With his relaxed demeanor, long gray-streaked dreadlocks, and always low, calm voice, Obasi chose a simple bone hairpin that kept his locks gathered. One fluid gesture of his hand slides the ornament from his hair and, blazing with a spectral energy, turns it into his Wizard's Pen — an instrument of creation and of death.

His composure and ruthlessness drew the attention of the Black Network's leadership, who infiltrated him among the ranks of Waterdeep's magical mercenaries. Obasi played his part flawlessly: a taciturn mage, useful but seemingly bereft of political ambition. A profile so perfect that it caught the eye of Vajra Safahr, the current Blackstaff.

Vajra, however, is no fool. She saw in Obasi an all-too-capable and potentially dangerous individual, the classic "undesirable subject". Not suspecting his Zhentarim affiliation in the slightest, she decided to use him as cannon fodder: she summoned him in secret and gave him a suicide mission — infiltrate Xanathar's lair and wipe out the beholder that controlled Waterdeep's back alleys. Obasi accepted with a nod, not to obey the Blackstaff but because he knew that among the beholder's trophies lay the phylactery of a lich, hidden in a ring owned by Xanathar, which the Black Network and his masters in the cult of Mystra wanted recovered at any cost.

Against all the Blackstaff's expectations, Obasi succeeded: the guild was shattered and the phylactery returned to the right hands. It was spring of 1492 DR, shortly after the Dragon Heist, and the streets of Waterdeep already trembled with the war between Xanathar's guild and the Black Network. When Obasi returned, with his usual composure and an unfaltering voice, Vajra realized she had an even bigger problem on her hands. With a feigned smile of satisfaction, the Blackstaff offered him a "promotion": the definitive mission for a hero — descend into Undermountain, find the mad Halaster Blackcloak, and free Waterdeep from his threat forever.

For this task Obasi gathered a party: Yelena, a rogue who casually blends daggers and spells — he saw her work magic and was fascinated, and a good rapport has grown between them; she is also training him in the use of the blade; Varis, an exceptional archer who has saved his life more than once and enjoys his full trust; Opa, a dwarven life cleric who is teaching him the ways of the shield; and Theren, a human about whom he knows little and, by instinct, does not fully trust.

Vajra is convinced she has sent him to die in the greatest meat-grinder of Faerûn. She does not know that Obasi smiled at the offer. The mission fits perfectly with his plan and the interests of the Black Network: he will descend into Undermountain, yes. He will kill Halaster, certainly. But not to free Waterdeep. Because Undermountain, soaked with magic to its very marrow, is draining the Weave across this whole part of Faerûn — and if the draining continues, the Weave itself will tear and Mystra will die. Obasi will descend to kill the Mad Mage and restore the fabric of the Weave, then claim Undermountain for himself, seizing the vast magical knot hidden within, before rising to the surface, crushing the Blackstaff, toppling the institutions that restrain wizards, and founding a new order where magic is controlled only by those with the right to do so.

PERSONALITY TRAITS

I always speak in a low, calm, and relaxed tone of voice, even while unleashing lethal magic. My peaceful demeanor and unkempt appearance hide a calculating and ruthless mind.

IDEALS

Magic is the supreme force of the universe and must be mastered only by those with the discipline to study it. Those born with innate powers are an anomaly of nature and must be caged or eliminated.

BONDS

My quill-hairpin is my most trusted companion, the extension of my mind. The Black Network is the tool through which I will bring order to Waterdeep and take Undermountain.

FLAWS

My intellectual pride is immense: I systematically underestimate sorcerers and innate spellcasters, treating them as undisciplined animals. Moreover, my ambition to rule Undermountain blinds me to the true, unfathomable madness of that place.
